JACKSON has 2130 people. How long will it be till she has 3000? About ten years with her present rate of increase.

THE Republicans of Stoddard county nominated a county ticket on last Thursday. Next Saturday the Republicans of this county will name their ticket.

WE should like to see Jackson grow. But if she does there will have to be more push and money used.

Has Stood the Test 25 Years.

The old, original Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. You know what you are taking. It is iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure, no pay. 50c.

Dr. Shoop has created at his laboratories a superior, sweet, toothsome candy tablet named Lax-ets. The ingredients are printed on the very attractive little lithographed metal boxes, in which these boxes are sold. Lax-ets sell at the very low price of 5 cents per box. A better, safer, or more certain laxative than Lax-ets is, Dr. Shoop believes, absolutely impossible. Lax-ets are for constipation, sour stomach, bad breath, sallow complexion, biliousness, headache, dizziness, etc., etc. Sold by all dealers.

NEXT WORLD'S FAIR.

NEW ZEALAND WILL HAVE INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

Arrangements Under Way for Opening in November—Will Continue Until April of Next Year.

The next great world's fair is to be given by the colony of New Zealand, in the South Pacific islands of that name, the romantic home of the ancient Maoris, which numbers among its attractions for the tourist many relics of that ancient people, with their descendants still living according to their old-time customs. The wonderful scenery of the picturesque island, with its bursting geysers, its forests and mountains filled with game for the sportsman, add an attraction to the site of the fair which will tempt many a visitor from far-off lands to make the trip to New Zealand during the progress of the exposition.

The fair is to be held in Hagley park, Christchurch, Canterbury, beginning in November next and continuing to some date in April, 1907. This is the summer season in New Zealand, the time of year when her natural attractions are at their best. All nations of the world have been invited to exhibit at the fair. The object of the exhibition is educational, the colonists desiring to show to the world the resources and possibilities of the colony as one of the world's food-producing factors; to demonstrate its vast mineral resources and to draw attention to picturesque and unrivaled scenery, its thermal wonders and the exceptional opportunities offered to sportsmen. A further object is to bring to the notice of the more industrial nations of the world the great field offered by New Zealand as an outlet for enterprise and for the use and consumption of all manner of up-to-date appliances and manufactures.

The imports of New Zealand in 1905, at least three-fourths of which are manufactured goods, amounted in value to $66,000,000. Of course, Great Britain, the home country, furnished the great bulk of this trade. The commonwealth of Australasia was next in the list and following her came the United States, which furnished goods to the value of $8,000,000. When it is considered that this great expenditure for foreign supplies is made for the use of a colony with a population of but 850,000 persons it can be readily seen what a rare opportunity is offered for exploiting New Zealand with up-to-date manufactures. Exporters of every land on the face of the globe will be deeply interested in investigating the trade possibilities of the country and it is confidently anticipated that the fair will be a success financially as well as in bringing to the attention of the world the advantages possessed by the island as a trade center for the industrial world.

Special arrangements are being made with the steamship companies trading to New Zealand under which exhibitors will obtain special rates of freight on exhibits. The exhibition buildings will be constituted a bonded warehouse, and while all goods sold will be charged the regular rate of duty, those to be returned to other lands will be reshipped free of duty. The ordinary charge for space will be from two shillings (50 cents) a square foot, the minimum charge being $5.25, 25 per cent. payable on application, 25 per cent. on allotment and the balance one month before the opening of the fair.

PLANTS MADE BY SPIRALS.

Original Nebula Supposed to Have Been Formed by Influence of the Sun.

How were the planets made? Prof. R. G. Moulton, of the University of Chicago, has another alternative to La Place's theory of the formation of the planetary systems. It is that the planets and their satellites have been formed around primitive nuclei of considerable dimensions existing in spiral nebulae probably similar to those which Prof. Keeler showed to be many times more numerous than all the nebulae of all other types. The growth of each nucleus was caused by the gradual accretion of smaller masses, and the method of this growth which is suggested accounts for all the different types of bodies now found in the solar system, and for their present motions and velocities on dynamical principles. The original spiral nebula is supposed to have been formed by the near approach of another star to the body which is now our sun. This exterior attraction set up tides in the solar matter, and, being continued, actually caused immense masses to be ejected and drawn out in the spiral form. On this assumption the spiral would emerge from the central nucleus in two directions, on opposite sides, and this is the form generally shown in photographs of such nebulae.

Beaver in New York State.

Although since 1870 the beaver has continuously hovered on the point of extinction in the Empire state, there has never been a time when the North woods did not contain at least one wild colony. I have in my possession fresh beaver cuttings which were obtained within the past five years from two different localities in Franklin county, and at present there is in this county, in the waters northwest of Upper Saranac lake, a small family—perhaps two distinct families—which are undoubtedly the direct descendants of the original wild stock. White Fox Squirrel.

The state house at Topeka, Kan., has a phenomenon which probably no other similar organization can boast of. It is a white fox squirrel, and was shot by a farmer near Ozarkville recently. The animal is unusually large for a fox squirrel. Its back is entirely white. Its head is of the same color, save a small spot of brown between the ears and over the nose. The tail and under part of the body are brown, like an ordinary squirrel. Students of nature say that this is the only white fox squirrel which they have ever heard of and may be the only one in existence.

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TRAVELING MEN.

To the Republican Voters:

I am a candidate for a second term for the office of collector, subject to your decision Saturday of next week. It is utterly impossible to see you all, hence will use this means to ask you to consider these points:

It has heretofore been customary to give the collector and every other official at least two terms if the duties of the office were performed satisfactory. I am only asking for a second term. As to whether I have performed my duties satisfactory, I leave that to you and the records. Last year, my first collections, I collected a little over 98 per cent of all taxes, which fact was complemented by the county court. I have tried to treat every one fairly and would continue to do so; would therefore ask if you think me entitled to a second term, to lend me your support.
